A Read Dick Zhang's letter to the Problem Page of a newspaper and give short answers to the questions below.

Dear Editor

A few years ago, I had no problem sleeping at night. After eleven o'clock, the city was quiet and everybody went to sleep. Now, things are completely different! There is noise twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. It's non-stop!

In my street, it's not just buses and taxis but also people! There is a disco near my flat. It stays open all night. People often leave the disco at three o'clock in the morning. They always shout 'good night' very loudly, get in their cars and drive away very fast!

I cannot sleep well at night. I have to close my bedroom window! It's the only thing I can do to try to block out the noise. Can you help me? Will things be changed in the near future?

Yours faithfully

Dick Zhang

Chapter 5: Dogs

- ☐ Dogs are excellent pets. They are very friendly and very beautiful too. Most
- ☐ dogs are good with children. Others are especially good watch-dogs because they bark loudly when someone arrives unexpectedly.
- ☐ When you buy a dog, an important thing to consider is its size. Buy a small dog for a small flat. Buy a bigger one for a larger flat. Also, check if the dog you want to buy needs rabies^① injections^②. Rabies is a very dangerous disease, but you can prevent it with injections.
- ☐ Many people wonder how to feed their dogs. Dogs eat almost anything! They like meat, rice, biscuits and lots of other things. You can find lots of
- ☐ specially-made dog food in shops. Don't let your dog eat too much. Feed it only once a day. Always leave water for your dog. It can get thirsty very quickly, especially in summer.
- ☐ Remember that dogs need exercise. Don't keep your dog inside all day. You should take it for a daily walk. Remember, big dogs need longer walks than small ones.

Writing

Read the letter Martin wrote to a zoo. Imagine you are the director of the zoo. Use the notes below to write a reply. Add an address and date, and sign your name.

Dear Sir/Madam

I visited the zoo yesterday, but I was very unhappy and angry about the things I saw. The large animals were in extremely small cages. The lion was walking back and forth. It was completely bored. The tiger was asleep all afternoon. I saw people feeding the fish. They were throwing rice and meat into the aquarium. That could kill the fish, but no one tried to stop them.

When I had a drink at the zoo restaurant, the staff served me rudely. Outside the restaurant, the rubbish bins were completely full, and rubbish was blowing everywhere.

It seems the zoo does not look after the animals or the visitors very well.

Yours sincerely
Martin Wo

Paragraph 2

Paragraph 3

- restaurant — told staff/speak/politely/to visitors
- put three new rubbish bins
near restaurant

Dear Martin

Thank you for telling me some of the problems at the zoo. Here are some of the things we have done to solve the problems.

I hope this letter answers some of your complaints about the zoo. We are certainly not perfect, but we will try very hard to make it a nice place both for animals to live and for people to visit.

Computer News

A big change in our life

The Internet has greatly changed our life. Every day, more and more people are going online. The Internet has brought us many benefits and wonders.

The search engine

A search engine is used to search for information on the Internet. Search results are usually a list of websites, web pages or other types of files. A survey shows that about 50% of people will use search engines to find information they need, for example, 'where do people go shopping in Hong Kong?'

iYouthnet

iYouthnet is a website for teenagers. You can talk to other young people all over the world by e-mail. It's a fun site!

Computers that you can wear

The latest thing is computers that you can wear. You can soon throw out your palmtops, mobile phones and WAP phones. Modern computers will work from the heat of your body. There is already a jacket that gets and sends e-mails, and there is even a dress that plays music when you move.

Get into Computer News. It ...

- | | |

| 1 gives you two website addresses. | T/F |
| 2 tells you how to use search engines. | T/F |
| 3 is useful for teenagers who want to get to know each other. | T/F |
| 4 tells you how many people are surfing the Internet now. | T/F |
| 5 describes computers that you can wear. | T/F |

B Read about these students. Which news would they find useful? Write the headings in the blanks.

1 Vivian wants to know how computers affect our life.

2 When Amy needs some information for her project, she uses search engines.

3 Samuel likes communicating with other teenagers by e-mail.

4 Henry is interested in what modern computers will do.

Writing

A Peter is telling April about an 'environmentally friendly' computer game. Read their conversation and help Peter complete his e-mail about the game to his friend.

Peter: Everybody is interested in the sea and the air in Garden City. So, my new game is about the environment.

April: Has it got a name? Maybe you should call it The Clean Garden City Game.

Peter: No, I'll call it The Garden City Environment Game. There's a man in the game. He keeps throwing rubbish into the sea, but he's very clever. He hides from you.

April: So what do I have to do?

Peter: You have to find him, and give him a message about the environment. You get points for every message. If you get 1,000 points, you win the game.

Reading

Read the passage and answer the following questions.

Your Amazing Brain!

Your brain weighs about 1.4 kg. Inside your brain are billions of cells. Each cell is a thousand times more powerful than a computer!

The active part of your brain is called the grey matter. This part stores information and gives instructions to the rest of your body. Most scientists believe that we use about 1% of our grey matter. That is why our memory system is poorer than a computer.

Scientists think that some parts of our brains can grow bigger if we use them a lot. For example, they found that parts of a taxi driver's brain got bigger because he had to memorize all the streets in a city!

We do not lose our memory completely. We never forget who we are or what our names are. We may forget what happened after a car accident, for example, but our memories usually come back later.

We can remember smells better than we can remember words or pictures. Certain smells can help us remember things from the past. This is because the part of our brains that remembers smells is close to the part that stores memories.

- 1 How heavy is a human brain?

- 2 Which is more powerful, a cell or a computer?

- 3 What stores information and gives instructions to the rest of the body?

- 4 What can we do to make some parts of our brains bigger?

- 5 Why can we remember smells better than we can remember words or pictures?

Writing

It was Peter's birthday yesterday, but he had a terrible day. Look at the pictures, read his diary and answer the questions.

1st November

Today was my birthday, but it was a terrible day. I failed to hear my alarm clock, so I got up late. Then I forgot to close the windows before I went out, so the rain came into my bedroom.

My friend Ben invited me to a birthday lunch and promised to meet me at noon, but he didn't remember to come. So I had lunch by myself. The food wasn't bad, but then I realized I didn't have any money with me. The waitress was very angry, and she refused to let me leave the restaurant.

At first, I didn't know what to do. Then the waitress said I could make one telephone call. I decided to phone my father. I told him I wanted to borrow some money. He said he was busy, and he couldn't come and help me until seven o'clock.

What could I do? No money, no more phone calls! There was only one thing I could do. I offered to wash the dishes at the restaurant. The waitress thought this was a good suggestion. She said there was a lot of washing-up to do. I didn't manage to finish the washing-up until seven o'clock.

What a day! I'm glad birthdays only come once a year!

- 1 Why did Peter get up late on his birthday?

- 2 What did he forget to do before he went out?

- 3 When did his friend Ben promise to meet him?

- 4 Why was the waitress very angry with Peter?
